

Laid to Waste in the Shit of Man

Eighteen Visions

"... drags the filth, the misery laid in slop, the race of man"
"... differences, precedences, its passions and its violence[?]

I know I've been taken down this road before
If you could see what I have seen I think you'd want to choke
Is there anybody out there listening?
Can anybody hear me screaming now?
Now I'm bleeding out

If this is the end, where do I begin?
Do I leave all that I've ever know behind?
If this is the end, will I be born again?
Or will I self destruct by killing more than time?
If this is the end

Now I think I'm breaking down, but I want more
I won't give up, I can't give in, cause I'd hate to never know
I won't stop until my heart stops beating
I'm in a hole with no way out
Now I'm bleeding out

If this is the end, where do I begin?
Do I leave all that I've ever know behind?
If this is the end, will I be born again?
Or will I self destruct by killing more than time?
If this is the end

In this shit I lay to waste
In this shit I lay to waste
I lay to waste
I watch the chaos rise
I watch the chaos rise

If this is the end, where do I begin?
Do I leave all that I've ever know behind?
If this is the end, will I be born again?
Or will I self destruct by killing more than time?
If this is the end
