

Said And Done

Eighteen Visions

Close the book and turn the page
Exit players from the stage...
Count the moons and stars
But please stop fighting wars with me...

After all is said and done
You still try
After all is said and done
You're not mine

Turn your back on all hope
This sheep has shed his winter coat...
You send your notes and rantings
This pigeon has hard times landing...

After all is said and done
You still try
After all is said and done
You're not mine

After all is said and done
You still try
After all is said and done
You're not mine
