

The Disease, The Decline and Wasted Time

Eighteen Visions

By now there's nowhere to hide
Your life's become a fucking waste of time
I've watched you slip, I've watched you fall from grace
I've watched you bend and now I'll watch you break

You find the weakest mind
You force your way inside
Feeding upon their soul
Until they bleed no more

Too many times I've bled for you
Too many times I've tried
Too many times I've trusted you
Too many times you lied
I've watched you burn every bridge
I hope you know how to swim
Choke on the air you breathe
Too many times I've bled for you
You're just a fuckin leech

You've got a fucking disease
The broken glass has brought you to your knees
I've watched you crash and now I'll watch you sink
Your thirst for fame has put you on the brink

You find the weakest mind
You force your way inside
Feeding upon their soul
Until they bleed no more

Too many times I've bled for you
Too many times I've tried
Too many times I've trusted you
Too many times you lied
I've watched you burn every bridge
I hope you know how to swim
Choke on the air you breathe
Too many times I've bled for you
You're just a fuckin leech

This is a new kind of hell
This is a new kind of hate
This is a new kind of hatred

This is a new kind of hell
This is a new kind of hate
This is a new kind of hatred

You have broken the bond of friends
Now we witness your bitter end

Go!
