You Cared Enough to Lie

Eilen Jewell

If I never laid eyes on you again
I'd think about you now and then
You made me feel so special
Right until you said goodbye
And if you never really loved me
You cared enough to lie

You must have a happy home
'Cause you ain't hangin' out
At least nobody tells me if you do
I'm still out here tempting fate
Running from my past
And I'd give my [?] saddle for one more night with you

If I never laid eyes on you again
I'd think about you now and then
The time I spent with you
I swear I'd never been so high
And if you never really loved me
You cared enough to lie

If I never laid eyes on you again
I'd think about you now and then
You made me feel so special
Right until you said goodbye
And if you never really loved me
You cared enough to lie
