

Sunfeet

Eisley

Listen to me, please sit down and stay
I'm gonna build a house and hide away
Gather timber from the ground
I'll build a castle that won't fall down
And when I'm done
The clock will stop and from
Our heads will come bright flowers

I don't know, I can't contain my heartbeat
I am dancing, shrouded by green trees
I am whirling, wearing my sun feet
And humming children to sleep

I love to watch the light you spread to the room
See how it dances from you to me to you
With our laughter, bright white sound
I'll build a castle that won't fall down
And when I'm done
The clock will stop and from
Our heads will come bright flowers

I don't know, I can't contain my heartbeat
I am dancing, shrouded by green trees
I am whirling, wearing my sun feet
And humming children to sleep

Soft, sweet music makes me sleep
Calling my mind away, oh
Resting faces calm and quiet
