

For You

Elaine Paige

Why is it when I wake up every day
Yours words run into everything that I might say
Every thought and every smile finds its way back to you
Every step that I take anything that I do
Oh, I haven't forgotten you

When the telephone rings
My hands start to shake
Seems that I give
So much more than I take
Every thought and every smile finds its way back to you
Every step that I take anything that I do
Oh, I haven't forgotten you

Pretty tunes don't mean a lot
When I'm singing just for you
I don't have to say a lot
But it's all that I can do
And you know it's for you

But whatever you do

Doesn't change the way I feel
You're all that is love
You're everything real
Every thought and every smile finds its way back to you
Every step that I take anything that I do
Oh, I haven't forgotten you

Here they come again
Here they come again
Hope they're gonna find me
I can't find my way changing every day
Hope you're gonna find me
O, oo, hope they're gonna find me
Oo, oo, oo, hope they're gonna find me

Here I am looking for love and affection
I keep on looking for love and affection
Oh, oh, I'm lonely for love
Oh, oh, I'm lonely for love.
