An Imagined Affair

Elbow

A sky as black as regret
Is rolling aside for the blue
Impossible face to forget
These feelings belong in a zoo

She brings the morning She, she brings the morning sun

So lost in the sound of her voice I don't even hear the words When she says, "Come on get out. The past will find us out. Come on get out please And don't breathe a word."

She brings the morning She, she brings the morning sun

But all this an imagined affair While sitting in a bar spilling in a bar I drink until the doorman is a Christmas tree And my speech is just a gas leak

She brings the morning She, she brings the morning sun
