

Open Season

Eleanor Friedberger

Have you seen the movie yet?
There's a lot about it in the press
It made me think of you
Did it make you think of me?

Is it freezing over there?
I'm opening a tree museum
That's my new hobby

[Chorus]
25,000 reasons
And you only needed one
Open season has begun, begun

I may be over in the spring
To do a little spring cleaning
I don't know where you are
But you're not on the old street

Where we got a place together
That was never my address
Now here's the receipt

It's as though I lost my voice
I couldn't make you do it
And now I have no choice

[Chorus]
25,000 reasons
And you only needed one
Open season has begun, begun

There are many distractions
Sapping all my energy
Did you find the antique needles?
And the money in the ceiling?

No need to thank me
I left it where you'd find it
Beneath the oil of the Aegean sea
