

The Spanish Word For Heart

Eleanor McEvoy

Well, the Spanish word for heart is corazón
It's there in every second Spanish song
I have come to learn its meaning
Though I might pronounce it wrong
But the Spanish word for heart is corazón

Now, the German say das Herz und die Lieb
The French say coeur, the Irish say mo chroí
I don't know what they say in Denmark
I couldn't stay that long
But the Spanish word for heart is corazón

Oh but there are those who don't know what it means
They will wear you down and trample on your dreams
They might speak a little Spanish
But it's not their mother tongue
Cause the Spanish word for heart is corazón

Well I never really learned that much in school
I was too busy playing guitar and playing the fool

There was no teacher that could teach me
What I had to learn alone
Like the Spanish word for heart is corazón
Now I've learnt that life is richer when it's shared
So while there's wine to drink and music to be heard
I will raise my glass to all the hearts that I depend upon
Now the Spanish word for that is corazón

En español decís corazón
En vuestra poesía y canción
Todas estas palabras no necesitan traducción
En español decís corazón

Well, the Spanish word for heart is corazón
It's there in every second Spanish song
I have come to learn its meaning
Why did it take so long?
The Spanish word for heart is corazón
Yes, the Spanish word for heart is corazón
