

Everyday

Electric Guest

Smooth operator
Making my way
And when my song is on, you know I celebrate

Look like an alligator
Barely awake
Keep going on and on, it's always holiday

I'm just playing cause I'm crazy and I'm outta my head
Everyday I'm waking up and wondering if I'm dead
I don't care about nothing, it's all a game to me
Then it switches, and I'm happy, feeling like I'm the one
There's no other motherfucker that can do what I've done
Now my mood ring's twitching, that's all I need to see

Everyday I'm going up
Everyday I'm going up then down
I got million million-dollar luck
Other days I'm feeling 6 feet down

Finally graduated
I'm in the zone
Riding the wave, my mind is free, my hair is long

They like it complicated
I like it slow
Too many calling out, that's why I'm on my own

Oh, you know, I don't know what they're talking about
I can't understand the words that's coming out of their mouth
I don't care about nothing, it's all the same to me
Then it switches, and I'm chilling, feeling better than good
There's no other motherfucker who can do what I could
Now my mood ring's different, that's all it needs to be

Everyday I'm going up
Everyday I'm going up then down
Mumbling like Donald Duck
(Up and Down get back to you when it comes around)
Then I'm smoother than a silk white gown
(Get back to you when it comes around)

Everyday I'm going up
Everyday I'm going up then down

Everyday I'm going up
Everyday I'm going up then down

Everyday I'm going up
