

Tiny Little Men

Electric Six

Don't ask too many questions, my son
You might not like what you find

There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will, yeah

Well, the weatherman says there's a storm on the loose tonight
Take cover, my dear

There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will, yeah

There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will tonight
Tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will tonight
There's tiny little men
Held against their will
Held against their will, yeah
