

Turquoise

Electric Six

The smell of me
The spell of meat
Are two sides of the same coin, boy
I'm an apple rotten to the core

You silly thing
Why did you think
We were meant to be something more
Than a butcher's cut in a meat store

To think we used to live in
Fear of the atom bomb
Now we're ordering our sandwiches
From shit.com

The world tipped on its side and went tits up
So to protect myself I wear turquoise
Why don't you wear turquoise?
Don't you wanna live? Oh maybe you don't wanna live

The world tipped on its side and went tits up
So to protect myself I wear turquoise
Why don't you wear turquoise?
Don't you wanna live? Oh maybe you don't wanna live
Oh!

The rhapsody
The melody
But the poor conductor fell into the bin
Must've had it spelled out boy

As mother nature bleeds and bleeds
The orchestra
Covers up for it
But it's not a sound I can say I enjoy

Used to be we understood
How it all went wrong
But I don't pay for protection
I just sing along

The world flipped on its side and went tits up
So to protect myself I wear turquoise
Why don't you wear turquoise?
Don't you wanna live? Oh maybe you don't wanna live

The world tipped on its side and went tits up
So to protect myself I wear turquoise
Why don't you wear turquoise?
Don't you wanna live? Oh maybe you don't wanna live
No!

The network news puked all over itself
I don't know what they say
Something something about public health
And one day it might go away
It's so hard to arrive

At what we must do
It's so hard to be alive
When I can't be with you

It's like an alien invasion
Under stress we suppress
The spread of information
Spreading fear, spreading love
I am here, I'm what you're afraid of
'Til then come on feel the noise
Protect yourself with turquoise

The world flipped on its side
(The world flipped on its side)
The world flipped on its side
(The world flipped on its side)

The world flipped on its side
The world flipped on its side

The world flipped on its side
(The world flipped on its side)
The world flipped on its side
(The world flipped on its side)

The world flipped on its side
