

Dead Man Walking

Elegant Weapons

Hell is now empty and all of your demons are here
Forget about yourself and everything else disappears
Ready to get you take a guess what's next
The multitude of the sins you commit can't compare with your earthly success

What if I said I'd take the fall
Obey no rules only desires
Would you have it all
And when you've clawed your way out
Kill all your truths buried in sacred ground

Turn into a dead man walking
Burn the candle at both ends
Clutch the Bible of your making
The choice is nothing I'll defend

The path of least resistance
No need to preach to the choir
You think you know just what you did
Trying to get yourself higher

Darkness delivered
Rage is obsession's disguise
Temptation resist and dissolve into mist
Deception caged in your eyes

Go rest in peace while you can
Escaping yourself all those images in your head

Turn into a dead man walking
Burn the candle at both ends
Clutch the Bible of your making
The choice is nothing I'll defend

A dead man walking through the fire
A dead man walking through the fire
A dead man walking through the fire
A dead man walking through the fire

What if I said I'd take the fall
Obey no rules only desires
What if I said you could have it all
Would you be true or be a beautiful liar

Turn into a dead man walking
Burn the candle at both ends
Clutch the Bible of your making
The choice is nothing I'll defend

A dead man walking through the fire
What if I said I'd take the fall
Obey no rules only desires
A dead man walking through the fire
Would you have it all
A dead man walking through the fire
