

Memoriam

Eleine

I raise my head to the sky
Not knowing if next day will rise
Wind strokes my skin as I smile
The sun sets into crimson skies

Memoriam

All we want is someone to remember us
Fighting with our lives and still you bury us
Beneath shallow glory

Memoriam

This wasted life is mine to live, I rise above
Death is not the obstacle to climb across
We'll be in memoriam

I fought my way through this life
And stood my ground so many times
Scars grace my skin worn with pride
This smile will never fade with time

Memoriam

All we want is someone to remember us
Fighting with our lives and still you bury us
Beneath shallow glory

Memoriam

This wasted life is mine to live, I rise above
Death is not the obstacle to climb across
We'll be in memoriam

All we want is someone to remember us
Fighting with our lives and still you bury us
Beneath shallow glory

This wasted life is mine to live, I rise above
