

We Shall Remain

Eleine

All I've built will fall apart
I will have to rebuild from the start
Blood is running through my veins
As long as I stand I claim my name
I will remain

Why should I stand alone?
We are many but one
Oh, how we've grown

Broken and shamed
Held with a blade
Against our throats again
Still darkness fades

We shall remain
From our ash we rise again
We shall remain
Our will to live
Floods our veins
We shall remain

Bodies bleed and fall apart
What we've built has no end, only start
Beaten and drained
Held with a blade against our throats again
Still darkness fades

We shall remain
From our ash we rise again
We shall remain
Our will to live
Floods our veins
We shall remain

We shall remain
From our ash we rise again
We shall remain
Our will to live
Floods our veins
We shall remain
