

Dangerous

Eleni Mandell

I just want to tell you
I think you're fine
Oh, I think you're good, and good-looking
Oh, I'd like to read your mind
And I can't wait to get my salty lips upon your fingertips
Wave your magic wand

Did you ever stop to think
That life is just a memory
And all we can hope for are pleasant dreams
I know that poison can be fatal
And I think that you are dangerous

I just want to tell you
Your tough, together hatefulness
A smile for any girl
Who feels like feathers falling
Thankful for a little conversation
Oh, life can be lonely

And I can't wait to get your salty skin between my teeth
Ooh, a little bite
Uhm, I am a tiger
And I love to kill what I will eat
And I know that poison can be fatal
And I think that you are dangerous

I just wanna tell you
I'm positive you're something
You are so, so, so disgusting
And I can't wait to get your salty lips upon my fingertips
Well
Baby, your magic wand

Did you ever stop to think
That life is just a minute
And all we can hope for
Is some love to stand within it
Oh, I know that poison can be fatal
And I think that you are dangerous
I know that poison can be fatal
And I think that you are dangerous
