

I drunk talk, I often do
And there's no excuse for what I said to you
We know nothing about each other
I'm just as surprised that I feel for you
You wind the time, I struggle to refrain
From getting these words off my chest
We stretched the night, you took the spotlight
As if tomorrow is never gonna come
You smell like California and dance like a tube man
You're so free and I can't catch you
The dark wall standing in between us
Disappear with glasses of wine

You're the one
Who just got away

You don't want another man
You have it all but that's not what you need
With much courage and all desire
Takes more than a bed to convince you

You're the one
Who just got away

For the one
Who just got away

I'll leave it all to you
Leave it all to you
I brought it up to you
Brought it up to you
When we talk it wouldn't last
Leave it all
I'll stop finding you
Stop chasing after you

For the one
Who just got away
For the one
Who just got away
