

When I Fall

Elephant Revival

When I fall, Lord let me fall
When I rise, see you standing there

A light beyond the dark
A love that is unbound
A veil that shields our eyes
As the sun goes down

When I fall, Lord let me fall
When I rise, see you standing there

We start, where we find ourselves
In heartbreak, doubt and pain
It's here, within these walls
That we transcend and begin again

When I fall, Lord let me fall
When I rise, see you standing there

When I fall, Lord let me fall
