

Departed

Elephante

I've been holdin' on
To someone else's heartache
The fires that they started

And I've been holdin' on
To those that hit me hardest
The places we've departed

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
I feel like I'm slippin', torn off the hinges
It's all because of you
It's all because of

You
It's all because of you

One time for all the lost ones
Two times for all the forgotten
Lately I don't feel too much like myself, oh no
I've been out of my head
Since the day that you left
But I'm too proud to ask for anyone's help, oh

I've been holdin' on
To someone else's heartache
The fires that they started

And I've been holdin' on
To those that hit me hardest
The places we've departed

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
I feel like I'm slippin', torn off the hinges
It's all because of you
It's all because of

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
I feel like I'm slippin', torn off the hinges
It's all because of you
It's all because of
