

Know Your Name

Elephante

Its the end of the day
And into the night
I was lost in the dark
But you were my light

Wherever I go
No matter what road
They all lead back to you
No matter which way
The currents will take
They all lead back to you

It's something supernatural
When my fire's burning low
Through all the pain
And pourin' rain
I will know your name

When the lights are dying down
And the quiet's getting loud
If my soul is fading
Separating
I will know your name
I will know your name
I will know your name

I will know your name
I will know your name
I will know your name

I'm falling by the wayside
Stranded in the dark and lost at sea
But deep in my heart
I got a spark to keep me safe

Wherever I go
No matter what road
They all lead back to you
No matter which way
The currents will take
They all lead back to you

It's something supernatural
When my fire's burning low
Through all the pain
And pourin' rain
I will know your name

When the lights are dying down
And the quiet's getting loud
If my soul is fading
Separating
I will know your name
I will know your name
I will know your name

I will know your name

I will know your name
I will know your name
