

Welcome Resurrection

Elevation Worship

May I never lose the wonder
Of this Gospel mystery
From the heavens came a Savior
From the ground arose a King
Every day is born in darkness
Every winter yields to spring
Let us speak of resurrection
Even in the suffering

You can do anything
You can do anything
My eyes will see Your glory
My eyes will see Your glory

As the sisters begged the Savior
Come at once to Bethany
For the one You love is dying
But His yes was not to be
As His weeping begged the question
Could His friend He not have healed
But He's still the resurrection
Even when the tomb is sealed

The dead will live
The dead will live again

Speaks the whisper in the silence
Sleeps the harvest in the seed
Cradled now a new beginning
In the heart that dares believe
Crucify your hesitation
Wounded expectation bring
Will you welcome resurrection
Will you crown the risen King
