

I heard the truth as I walked on through the storm
I'll be there soonÉsweet rain of pain my tears have dried
I'm lost in the night
Time ran away letting darkness met the day
I want to stay. My fear has come and made me change
I see the faces and the places melt to the ground
I hear the voices and the choices melt to the ground
I feel the reason turn to treason all upside down
Damned to the left of me. Damned to the right of me
Damned if I fight it I'm damned. Better let it beÉ
Damned my resistance is damned. My survival is damned
My solution is damned. Better let it be damned
Woke up alive wearing masks to make it right
They are not mine
Threw them away so chaos would see and smile down on me
Took my own hand. Left the comfort of my plan
I understand my fear is here to help me up
I see the anger and the hatred melt to the ground
I hear the crying and confusion melt to the ground
I feel the logic and the tragic all upside down
Damned to the left of me. Damned to the right of me
Damned if I fight it I'm damned. Better let it beÉ
Damned my resistance is damned. My survival is damned
My solution is damned. Better let it be damned