

Kill Me No More

Eleven

I swallowed all of you
Where am I? Not here
Drifted far way from all things clear
And frozen in the fall
Looking up at you
Trying to save me with your words but that...won't do

Before I opened all the doors and let you in
All I wanted from this life was to begin
Now it's my lie that won't believe me
Love is what will kill me no more

Forever as you said, ends where we are now
You who made the sun go out somehow
Of trust impurely made by the slightest tear
All the seams have come undone and you...not there
