

Resist Him

Elgibbor

If the devil can't kill you, he will try to make you insane, He will lie to you about who you really are, He will harass you and vex your soul, he will whisper fearful things in your ear, he will make what is small seem big and what is big seem small. He will raise dark suspicion within your soul, causing you to draw back in worry. He will hiss that you are unlovable and unworthy. He will argue on behalf of your flesh that you deserve better than this. He will tempt you to seek relief in cisterns of emptiness and futility. Most of all, he will try to cast a spell to make you forget that you are truly prince of princess of God Almighty. The devil seeks to drive you into exile of loneliness and despair. RESIST HIM in the name of the Lord !
