Since when

When was it a crime to love you
I won't put no one above you
Every time I think about us
I just want to just but

Since when

When was it a crime to love you
I won't put no one above

Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when

Same ol' same
You won't change
You want the fame
You want the same thing
Pull up slide wrist plain jane

Back then you used to hold me down
Now you act like you don't know how

Fuck your friends
How you gon' let them tell you bout' your man
Yeah yeah

Fuck your friends
Truth be told they tryna fuck your man
Yeah yeah
Yeah yeah

Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when

They be talking all that shit about you
Really couldn't see myself without you
They don't gotta know everything that we do
You gotta be aware of the ones that's around you

Quit playing pick up the phone
Look at the signs you know they wrong
That shit a lie what is you on
Sever the ties you gotta grow now

All this shit is optional
I really gotta stop you now
Girl I gotta block you now
All they do is run they mouth

Fuck your friends
How you gon' let them tell you bout' your man
Yeah yeah

Fuck your friends
Truth be told they tryna fuck your man
Yeah yeah
Yeah yeah

Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when

Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when since when since when since when
Since when (How is it a crime, how is it a crime to love you)
