

Castles

Eli Lieb

Do you feel like you're broken and had enough
And you're smashing your mirrors and out of luck
Turning your dreams to gravel
But let the broken stones built your castles

They can break us down again
And we will build our castles
'Cause we're all reigning queens and kings
And we will build our castles
Oh-oh castles
Castles
Oh-oh castles

When the sky's growing gray and the cuts are deep
And a warm hearted friend is all you need
People might hope you'll crumble
But let the stones they throw build your castles

They can break us down again
And we will build our castles
'Cause we're all reigning queens and kings
And we will build our castles
Oh-oh castles
Castles
Oh-oh castles

They can break us down again
And we will build our castles
'Cause we're all reigning queens and kings
And we will build our castles
Oh-oh castles
Castles
Oh-oh castles
