

Intermission (Notes To Self)

Eli Sostre

What are you afraid of?

Not being great enough before I go.

Why?

'Cause I feel like that I have a lot to prove.

I just always feel like there's more to do.

My choice is to control my music.

I leave it for my kids, all this work I put in.

That's my choice.

What are you most proud of?

That.

Your choice?

My choices.

But as you get older, you're gonna see that for yourself that, that life is just not everything that's on TV and shit.

So I feel like, the younger me wouldn't take the advice but

He would still probably go through the same things.

Just because he wants it so bad. He'd do anything to figure it out to get to that point. Then it's like, oh, now motherfuckers understand me?
