

Abide

Elijah Blake

Goodnight, If you let go then I'll abide
It don't feel right but I'm strong enough to lose the fight
Cause your heart don't make no kind of sense when you've made u p your mind

Hey, I know this ain't the place
To talk about this but, there's something on my mind, mind now
And wait, yes it's getting late
And I should know my place
Cause someone else is loving you now

But I get this feeling that you're only chilling
With him cause I wasn't ready, oh baby
I don't mean to burden you with my problems
Just had to say it face-to-face, before we throw it away

So goodnight, If you let go then I'll abide
It don't feel right but I'm strong enough to lose the fight
Cause your heart don't make no kind of sense when you've made u
p your mind
I don't want it to be a goodnight, If you let go then I'll abid e
I will abide

Strange, neither one was to blame
Wish the place in circles into squares of what this was Insane, we're one of the same
Victims of the consequences of the sprained love

But I got this feeling that you're only dealing
With him cause I wasn't ready, oh baby
I don't mean to burden you with my problems
Just had to say it face-to-face before we you and throw it away

So goodnight, If you let go then I'll abide
It don't feel right but I'm strong enough to lose the fight
Cause your heart don't make no kind of sense when you've made u
p your mind
I don't want it to be a goodnight, If you let go then I'll abid
