

Rainberry Woods

Elijah Blake

Eighteen, a nigga had his first birthday party
My Superwoman was always too busy working Aye, but somehow she always find the time to be there for me Aye, she said, "If I'm gonna be a bag lady, it's gon' be a Louis or a Birkin"

1999, four kids in a Suzuki four-wheel-drive
My poor daddy try to be there, problem is all he ever did was try, ooh
Canary yellow house on the corner
But we made it feel like a mansion
Summer days used to be warmer when the rainberries were ripe

Middle of the night, jaywalking
Headed down to the riverbend
Oh, I can't tell you how to get there
But I'm gonna see what I find
Rainberry woods in the night sky
Counting them all, I count it all, counted them all, I remember
every moment
Rainberry woods in the night sky
I'm counting them, counted 'em all, I remember every moment

Memories keep coming
'Round and around like a Ferris wheel
Autumn leaves keep falling
Falling down, these little big hills

1999, four kids in a Suzuki four-wheel-drive
Last to get picked up from daycare, all Daddy ever really did was try, ooh
Canary yellow house on the corner
Boy, we made it feel like a mansion
Summer days used to be warmer when the rainberries were ripe

Middle of the night, jaywalking
Headed down to the riverbend
Oh, I can't tell you how to get there
But I'm gonna see what I find
Rainberry woods in the night sky
Counting them all, I count it all, counted them all, I remember
every moment
Rainberry woods in the night sky
I'm counting them, counted 'em all, I remember every moment
