I know it's written all over my face
I'm all alone, I'm afraid
I need somebody to tell, but no one really cares
All these thoughts in my head
They want me broken and left
In pieces, screaming for help
But there's nobody there

Lost and lonely, fading out slowly now
With the way I'm going, I don't think I'm gonna be found (Whoa-oh)

It's hard to see when you're still lost in the dark
I don't believe there's a light at the end
It's hard to breathe when you've fallen this far
Why can't you notice I've been so hopeless?
I try to hide, try to cover up my scars
But every time, I lose in the end
I try to fight, but it hits way too hard
Why can't you notice I'm at my lowest?

Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh
I'm at my lowest
Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh

Torn apart at the seams
I'm broken down underneath
I wish I that I didn't seem so invisible
Try so hard to hold on
But I think I'm already gone
I don't know where I belong
I need a miracle

Lost and lonely, fading out slowly now
With the way I'm going, I don't think I'm gonna be found (Whoa-oh)

It's hard to see when you're still lost in the dark
I don't believe there's a light at the end
It's hard to breathe when you've fallen this far
Why can't you notice I've been so hopeless?
I try to hide, try to cover up my scars
But every time, I lose in the end
I try to fight, but it hits way too hard
Why can't you notice I'm at my lowest?

Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh
I'm at my lowest
Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh
Why can't you notice I'm at my lowest?
Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh
I'm at my lowest
Lowest, lowest, lowest, low, whoa-oh, whoa-oh
I'm at my lowest
I'm at my lowest
