

A Parallel World

Elisa

I'm staring at your intention
I'm having this you perception
I'm feeling I've become more powerful
Never saw, desired and wanted

Driving home, the sky's enchanted
Only now am I able to give?
Only now am I able to feel?
Only now am I able to see?

A parallel world
A parallel scene
And I am kissing you
There's nothing in between
A parallel home
A parallel dream
I left it all alone
I can't take it for me

For coming back
Dreams are coming back
I'm back to hunting signal
That shall never be afraid
I shall never run away

The sun knows if I have cried and the
The wind saw if I have tried and the
The sky knows if I have waited
And God knows if I'm living now

A parallel world
A parallel scene
I am kissing you
There's nothing in between
A parallel home
A parallel dream
I left it all alone
I can't take it for me

And I know you know how it feels to wander around
And I know you know how it feels to wander around

A parallel world
A parallel scene
I am kissing you
There's nothing in between
A parallel home
A parallel dream
I left it all alone
I can't take it for me

Yeah
Me, yeah
