

The Good in Goodbye

Elise Estrada

The first the time we kissed, it never felt so good
Holding me in your arms, it really felt so good
And waking up next to you, truly felt so good
Making plans for tomorrow, really felt so good
Being the love of your life, oh it felt so good
All those promises, truly felt so good

So why'd you have to go and break my heart
One stupid move and you tore us apart
So just leave me here all alone in the dark
'Cause this time I'm moving on

So tonight
When my tears flow out of my eyes
When I'm all torn up inside
Leave me alone to cry
I finally see the good...
And tonight
When I'm down praying on my knees
Making kneels with the god I don't believe
Leave me alone to cry
I finally see the good in goodbye

The first time you lied, never so hurt so bad
Watching you holding her, really hurt so bad
And waking up without you, truly hurt so bad
Pretending that I don't care, really hurt so bad
And I running back to you, oh it hurt so bad
Knowing that we're through, truly hurt so bad

So why'd you have to go and break my heart
One stupid move and you tore us apart
So just leave me here all alone in the dark
'Cause this time I'm moving on

So tonight
When my tears flow out of my eyes
When I'm all torn up inside
Leave me alone to cry
I finally see the good...
And tonight
When I'm down praying on my knees
Making kneels with the god I don't believe
Leave me alone to cry
I finally see the good in goodbye
