Deadweight

Elitist

You only get back what you put on brother's side
One step forward, two steps back
Life's what you bought from me
You know you're just deadweight

Your ignorance had brought you down
And I would like to inform you that I know what you are Your negligence has left a scar
And I would like to inform you you're just deadweight

Deadweight

(I'll never forget)
You can't seem to remember but I'll never forget
All those empty words that mean nothing to me
When was the last time you took a good look at yourself
I'm dying to know

You said you would be better than this so I'm calling you out now
You wanna live in a world where you get something from nothing
Everyone becomes a quick rinse so you can get a quick fix and then yo u do it all over again

I've given all I had to bring you to the surface
But I'm calling you out now
You're nothing but deadweight to me

I've given all I had to bring you to the surface
I'm calling you out now
You're nothing but deadweight to me

You can't seem to remember but I'll never forget
All those empty words that mean nothing to me
When was the last time you took a good look at yourself
I'm dying to know

So what do you have to say for yourself
Do you think this is a situation i take lightly
You must have missed the point somewhere along the way

This is my life
So what do you have to say for yourself
You're withering away your colours so quickly
You can't remember
But I'll never forget

You can't seem to remember but I'll never forget
All those empty words that mean nothing to me
When was the last time you took a good look at yourself
I'm dying to know
