I've grown accustomed to his face
He almost makes the day begin
I've grown accustomed to the tune
He whistles night and noon
His smiles
His frowns
His ups
His downs
Are second nature to me now
Like breathing out and breathing in
I was serenely independent and content before we met
Surely I could always be that way again and yet
I've grown accustomed to his looks
Accustomed to his voice
Accustomed to his face

I've grown accustomed to his face He almost makes the day begin I've gotta used to hear him say Good morning every day His joys His woes His highs His lows Are second nature to me now Like breathing out and breathing in I'm very grateful he's a man and so easy to forget Rather like a habit one can always break and yet I've grown accustomed to a trace Of something in the air Accustomed I've grown accustomed to his face
