

How Do I Lose You

ella jane

I didn't know that I was falling 'til I hit the ground
And was it love if you could never hear it make a sound?
'Cause if you said we're losing time, I would've made it count
But look at us now

And I hold on tight
To what's not mine
Can't we decide what to call it?

So how do I lose you if I never had you?
Loving you like pretend
How do we end this if it never started?
Nothing real to forget
'Cause I'm having such a perfect time
Clinging onto every blurry line
Tell me if you aren't even mine
Then how do I, how do I lose you?

I didn't notice that I missed you 'til the hurricane Remember islands on the pavement in the pouring rain
We stood together slick and tethered 'til the weather gave
No it's not the same

And I hold on tight
To what's not mine
Can't we decide, should we call it?

Oh, how do I lose you if I never had you?
Loving you like pretend
How do we end this if it never started?
Nothing real to forget
'Cause I'm having such a perfect time
Clinging onto every blurry line
Tell me if you aren't even mine
Then how do I, how do I...

Keep on hearing something
When we've both said nothing?
What's the point in bluffing
From a hundred miles away?

So how did I lose you - I never had you
Loving like pretend
How do we end this if it never started?
Nothing real to forget
'Cause I'm having such a perfect time
Clinging onto every blurry line
Tell me if you aren't even mine
Then how do I, how do I lose you?
