

Strangers

Ella Langley

Okay, we're breaking up
It is what is
You know what they say
That old cliche
Let's just be friends
Let's play it out in our minds
I'll see you out on the town one Friday night
Get to talking, crossing lines
Let's say it now 'fore we say goodbye

We can't be friends
We can't be lovers
We can't be weekend drinking leaning on each another
We can't be falling off the wagon
Talking 'bout what happened
Where does that leave you and me
There's too much love
There's too much anger
We can't be friends
And we can't be strangers
We can't be strangers

Damned if we don't
Dammed if we do
It's a catch 22
I can't see tonight
Much less tomorrow
With or without you
So what do we do

We can't be friends
We can't be lovers
We can't be weekend drinking leaning on each another
We can't be falling off the wagon
Talking 'bout what happened
Where does that leave you and me
There's too much love
There's too much anger
We can't be friends
And we can't be strangers
We can't be strangers
No strangers

Oh, let's play it out in our minds
I'll see you out on the town one Friday night
Get to talking, crossing lines
Let's say it now 'fore we say goodbye

We can't be friends
We can't be lovers
Where does that leave you and me
There's too much love
We can't be friends

And we can't be strangers
No strangers
