

Fading Out

Ella Mai

You should just know, baby
You should just know

I been thinking bout it, praying for the weekend, make it run away
Looking for reasons for me to skip the play
Sorry if the words I say, they cut you deep
I ain't tryna do something that I don't mean

I say, "I'm done, I'm leaving"
Then you say, "Don't run, I'm pleading"
The next day, like that, we back on our bullshit

Thought I would die for your touch
But I hate living with us
Don't want a tainted love
Haven't you had enough?

You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out
You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out
You should just know

I been praying on it, but I know it's pointless
You fit the shoe
I know you feel it, baby, this ain't breaking news
I say sorry 'cause the words I say may kill your dreams
But me and you, we just don't make the perfect team

I say, "I'm done, I'm leaving"
Then you say, "Don't run, I'm pleading"
The next day, like that, we back on our bullshit

Thought I would die for your touch
But I hate living with us
Don't want a tainted love
Haven't you had enough?

I thought I would die for your touch
But I hate living with us
Don't want a tainted love
Haven't you had enough?

You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out
You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out

I don't really see the point of view

And for the record I ain't playing you, babe
Saying things, don't you change the topic
Already walking, ain't no need to talk it

You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out
You should just know by now
That we ain't working out
Tuning it out, you fading out
I'm fading out, we fading out

I'm fading out

I'm fading out, yeah
