

Cupid

Ella Red

You look happier without me than you did when I was around
Did you change your medication, like we always talked about?
You don't scratch at your right arm or rub your hands over your eyes
Did I take all of it with me, now that you can't hear me cry?

Did I love too much or not enough?
Was it worth the price of losing us?

Cupid had a deal he had to make
He said every heart I loved, he would have to break
Mine into pieces small enough for them to take
I wish I didn't have a heart that could break

See, you're with another blonde, should I let all mine grow out
Until you don't recognize the girl that everyone let down?

Did I make your meals? Did I get it right?
Was it worth it, being the love of my life?

Cupid had a deal he had to make
He said every heart I loved, he would have to break
Mine into pieces small enough for them to take
I wish I didn't have a heart that could break

Who's this Cupid, making me feel clueless?
Why'd you do this? Why are you so ruthless?
Who's this Cupid, making me feel stupid?
Why'd you do this? Why are you so ruthless?

Who's this Cupid?
Why'd you do this?
Cupid had a deal he had to make
He said every heart I loved, he would have to break
