

Here We Are

Ella Red

Guess that it was my bad, my mistake, my fault
For thinking it was you and me
We could be what they've been
Dreaming of, dreaming of
Never thought you'd fool me once
Fool me twice, it's such a shame
I knew your love had a price
I was willing to pay for
A selfless love, oh, a selfless love

And it all just feels so surreal

Oh, hey, you with the pants on fire
Promised me the world and my every desire
But here we are, oh, here we are

Now I can check one, check two
On my "Too-good-to-be-trues"
Crossed my heart, hoped to die
But the whole time you knew it was
Just a crush, I was just a crush

And it all just feels so surreal

Oh, hey, you with the pants on fire
Promised me the world and my every desire
But here we are, oh, here we are

And you said, "Forever and ever"
You need me, boy, you sure were clever
But here we are, oh, here we are

And you acted like you wanted me
While you were stalling
I was falling out from you

Now I can check one, check two
Doing better without you
Crossed your heart, hoped to die
Never thought you could lose
Miss "Just-a-crush", I was just a crush

Oh, hey, you with the pants on fire
Promised me the world and my every desire
But here we are, oh, here we are

And you said, "Forever and ever"
You need me, boy, you sure were clever
But here we are, oh, here we are

Oh, hey, you with the pants on fire
Promised me the world and my every desire
But here we are, here we are
