

The One I Love

Ellen Krauss

May I sing about the one I love
Without people not approving of?
And mother, I love her so
She makes everything let go
And father, I love her mind
The way she treats me so damn kind

So may I sing about the one I love
Without people not approving of?
So may we sing about the ones we love?

May I sing about the one I love
Without people not approving of?
Brother, I love her heart
Without her I'd fall apart
'Cause it's a case of liberty
That love's supposed to set you free

So may I sing about the one I love
Without people not approving of?
So may we sing about the ones we love
Without people not approving of?
May we sing about the ones we love
Without people not approving of?

I will have it no other way
So listen to me when I say
I will sing about the one I love
Without people not approving of
