

FIGHTING FOR

Elley Duhé

Dreams are my home
They're all I've ever known
The city is cold
And I just feel alone

If I could I would breakaway
And start all over again
Now I just fade to gray
And wonder what could have been

Tell me what
Tell me what I'm fighting for
Tell me where I should be in this world
If I could I would break these chains and walk right out the door
So tell me what
Tell me what I'm fighting for

They never made me feel like I was worth a damn worth a damn
And the only value I had ya own just 'cause you can
They said you're good if I say you're good
And nothing is sacred it's all fabricated

So tell me what
Tell me what I'm fighting for
Tell me where I should be in this world
If I could I would break these chains and walk right out the door
So tell me what
Tell me what I'm fighting for
