

OTHER SIDE

Elley Duhé

One day here the next you're gone
Fall asleep and wake up in a place unknown
For all I know I fell into some deep black hole
Wish I could stay here and call it home

Laying here awake
But I feel so strange
Maybe I could runaway
And change my name
Thought it was dream but I still feel pain
What if this was all a game
Wonder what it be like if I stayed
In another world where there's no shame
Doing all the things they said I can't
If the world was only in my brain!

Fell asleep woke up on the other side
Since I'm here might as well start another life
The sun stays out
And it feels like we'll never die
Fell asleep
Woke up the other side
Other side!

Sometimes I feel in control
On other days it feels like I don't know
Some type of cryption I just can't decode
Maybe one day it will all unfold

Laying here awake
But I feel so strange
Maybe I could runaway
And change my name
Thought it was dream but I still feel pain
What if this was all a game
Wonder what it be like if I stayed
In another world where there's no shame
Doing all the things they said I can't
If the world was only in my brain!

Fell asleep woke up on the other side
Since I'm here might as well start another life
The sun stays out
And it feels like we'll never die
Fell asleep
Woke up the other side
Other side!
