

Bridge

Ellie Holcomb

I had it wrong
Turns out there's more to the story than
What I thought
And now all the truth, it haunts me
'Cause what am I not seeing
What else am I missing, oh
No words for this feeling
But that's when I hear Your voice speaking

If you want to cross over this great divide
If you long for a day that doesn't feel like night
If you're searching for answers that you cannot find
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side

More than a song
I want to write a new story and
Own all I've done wrong
Walk through the ruins restoring

If you want to cross over this great divide
If you long for a day that doesn't feel like night
If you're searching for answers that you cannot find
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side

I want to listen, I want to repent
It's time to rebuild what's been broken
Teach me to love, help me learn to forgive
And when hate knocks it down, we'll rebuild it again
We want to listen, we want to repent
It's time to rebuild what's been broken
Teach us to love, help us learn to forgive
And when hate knocks it down, we'll rebuild it again
Yeah when hate knocks it down, we'll rebuild it

If you want to cross over this great divide
If you long for a day that doesn't feel like night
If you're searching for answers that you cannot find
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side

Woah, oh
Woah, oh
Woah, oh
Build a bridge, build a bridge to the other side
Be the bridge, be the bridge to the other side
