

My Portion and My Strength

Ellie Holcomb

Your voice calmed the wind and the sea
Can you calm these storms inside of me?
Help me to stand
On the promise that You are holding my right hand
Help me to know
That even when I lose my grip You won't let go
Help me believe
That You will be my portion and my strength

Your voice gave the blind the gift of sight
Can you take my darkness and turn it into light?
Help me to stand
On the promise that You are holding my right hand
Help me to know
That even when I lose my grip You won't let go
Help me believe
That You will be my portion and my strength

Oooh You'll be my portion and my strength

Oooh Your voice called the man out of the grave
Can You breathe new life into this mess I've made?
Help me believe
That You will be my portion and my strength
Help me believe
That You will be my portion and my strength

You'll be my portion and my strength
