it's casting a silhouette as the shadow hits the wall, it's bearing a burden of what we had before,
i'm slowly weakening,
i'm crashing out,
i'm holding on as we fall down.
carry on this isn't over,
what was i thinking of?
i was out of line,
and i would never go,
carry on, carry on
you soaked your cigarette, the rain's hitting at all cost, you said "i've had shallow days, but never have felt lost"
and i can't hide that something's gone, but we don't need no gospel song, you know that i, i just want to carry on.
carry on, this isn't over,
what was i thinking of,
i was out of line,
and i would never go,
on my knees,
life's just not worth living,
i'm on my knees for you.
