Lazy

Elliot Moss

If I sit by the river
Maybe the answer will come to me in a vision
So I'll close my eyes on the train
And daydream a new life by myself in Berlin

And if I knew, if I knew
That everything I did would matter so fast
I would do it all the same
Cause I'll never grow up, but I'm losing my hair
And it doesn't matter if I'm going nowhere

If I stand this way maybe I can make myself look thinner
If we call quit the game, everyone'll feel like a winner
And I'm holding your hand even though it's going ice cold
Cause I'm lazy and I know
What happens if I let it go

And if I wait by the river
Maybe it's sound will numb my aching nerves like a drug
Cause I'll never grow up, but I'm losing all my hair
Repeating to myself that this time I've run out of air

And if I knew, if I knew
That everything I did would matter so fast
Maybe I'd've pushed up on the glass
Cause I'm losing but mind
But I don't t think I care
My river flows, but it's going nowhere

If I stand this way maybe I can make myself look thinner
If we call quit the game, everyone'll feel like a winner
And I'm holding your hand even though it's going ice cold
Cause I'm lazy and I know
What happens if I let it go

If I stand up straight maybe I can make myself feel better
If I don't move today, I can just blame it on the weather
Cause you're holding my hand even though I wanna let go
Cause I'm lazy and I know where my river really flows
