Alameda

Elliott Smith

You walk down Alameda Shuffling your deck of trick cards Over everyone Like some precious only son Face down, bow to the champion

You walk down Alameda Looking at the cracks in the sidewalk Thinking about your friends How you maintain all them in A constant state of suspense

For your own protection Over their affection Nobody broke your heart You broke your own because you can't finish what you start

Walk down Alameda Brushing off the nightmares you wish could Plague me when I'm awake So now you see your first mistake Was thinking that you could relate For one or two minutes she liked you But the fix is in

You're all pretension I never pay attention

Nobody broke your heart You broke your own because you can't finish what you start

Nobody broke your heart You broke your own because you can't finish what you start

Nobody broke your heart You broke your own because you can't finish what you start

Nobody broke your heart If you're alone it must be you that wants to be apart
