

Every time you go
You leave a ghost behind
Aimlessly, I wander
Wonder, what am I?
Until you call me back
I feel this empty shell
With memories of springtime
And comedy of men

The streets are safe at night
Safer, all of us without a shadow tonight
When love is cheap and wild
We get a little closer to it every time

I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the cold wind coming in
I don't need nobody (body)
When I dream of a happy ending
No, I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the fire of a burning son
(Body, body, body, body...)
To be someone
To be someone

That is what is so a lot
That's what is, what is so a lot
That's what is, what is so a lot
That's what is, what is

Every time you leave
Daylight just disappear
Aimlessly, I wander
Wonder, if I'm here
You got the bird, don't go
Half man, half nothing, now
Need you back into me
To bring me back to life, eh

The streets are safe at night
Safer, all of us without a shadow tonight
When love is cheap and wild
We get a little closer to it every time

I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the cold wind coming in
I don't need nobody (body)
When I dream of a happy ending
No, I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the fire of a burning son
(I don't, I don't, need no, need nobody)
To be someone
To be someone

I don't need nobody (body)
To [?] in your mind
I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the [?]

I don't need nobody (body)
To know [?] at night
I don't need nobody (body)
To feel the pain of your goodbye
