

Had Enough

Elliphant

Oh, oh, oh oh, there

When I saw you, you were no longer looking heavy at the bar

Yeah, I had to ask you

What's your name, where you're from, who you are

And all I got was

"Get away, leave me alone, whatever you say, I don't wanna know. Please just go"

But I stayed

How could I leave?

I wouldn't let you owe me down like this no more

No more

You had enough

And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle

For the subtle

Wasting time

You don't have to keep that smiling joker mask on

Joker mask on

No, let's go

It's getting old

You had enough

And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle

For the subtle

So why you rhyme?

All this rhyming couldn't hide you from yourself, no

Hey, don't you know that you can find your pain inside of someone else, yeah

Eh can't you see, you're not alone

Because everybody is feeling alone, it's alright

It's alright

Yeah, don't be scared when in the dark

Don't fall in love with it

Don't let it get into your heart

Mmmmm

You had enough

And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle

For the subtle

Wasting time

You don't have to keep that smiling joker mask on

Joker mask on

So, let's go

It's getting old

You had enough

And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle

The subtle

Through the haze I catch a glimpse of myself (glimpse of myself)

He wasn't me (he wasn't me)

I saw who I am

And through the noise, I could hear someone crying for help (crying)

I couldn't see (I couldn't see)

But that somebody was me (it was me)

Hey, I've had enough (it was me)

Hey, I've had enough (it was me)

Hey, I've had enough (it was me)

Hey

You had enough
And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle
For the subtle
Wasting time
You don't have to keep that smiling joker mask on
Joker mask on
So, let's go
It's getting old
You had enough
And you don't have to be a sucker for the subtle
The subtle

I don't have to be a sucker
No more
