

Crystal Tears

Elmiene

I imagined crystal clear
In my corner, I can visualize you here
Keep me up, set me down, right from wrong
Hold my ground
Set to see so many years
But in its splendor found the sight to set my fears
I ran out, let you down, held on doubt, broke my crown

I need to know
If you can feel
Could I ever be your special person
Show you I can give love and devotion?
I need to know
If I can feel
Afraid to hold the glass I know I've broken
Take back all the notes I know I've chosen

This love, it goes on
I hear in your tone
I might be alone
My dreams will drag on
Despite my hope
I might be alone

Nights I pray my days
Keep on till I say
I apologize for leaving, and I know that
If I curse my ways
Won't mean you might stay
Foolish to believe I'm owed a call back

I need to know
If you can feel
Could I ever be your special person
Show you I can give love and devotion?
I need to know
If I can feel
Afraid to hold the glass I know I've broken
Take back all the notes I know I've chosen

This love, it goes on
I hear in your tone
I might be alone
My dreams will drag on
Despite of my hope
I might be alone

If I'd known that it would've been the last day
Then I know that I would've called you back, bae
If I'd known, if I'd known, if I'd known
If I'd known that it would've been the last day
Then I know that I would've called you back, bae
If I'd known, if I'd known, if I'd known

My baby, my baby
I promise, I promise I would've called you, baby
I promise I would've loved you, baby
